

DANNY W. JARRETT is Managing Partner of the Albuquerque, New Mexico office of Jackson Lewis LLP. Mr. Jarrett is a New Mexico native and a 1996 graduate of the University of New Mexico School of Law where he served as a staff editor of The New Mexico Law Review. He received a Bachelor of Science in Biology from the University of New Mexico in 1989, which he attended as the recipient of a Presidential Scholarship. Mr. Jarrett previously served as vice-president and corporate counsel for a national healthcare company. His duties included managing all operations of a multi-state company with over 400 employees, overseeing all human resources functions, and organizing corporate restructuring.

Mr. Jarrett's legal practice focuses on counseling and representing employers, government entities and Native American tribal organizations regarding labor and employment disputes. He has negotiated many collective bargaining agreements, on behalf of management, with various unions, including the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the Operating Engineers and the Teamsters. He has represented management's interests in union organizational campaigns, including organizing attempts by the Communication Workers of America, the Teamsters and the Painters and Glaziers Union, as well as in response to Unfair Labor Practice charges of all types. Mr. Jarrett assisted in setting up a double-breasted operation for a large, regional construction company. He also recently represented the State Bar of New Mexico and set national precedent when the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, D.C. ruled that it did not have jurisdiction to oversee a representation election involving State Bar employees and the Communication Workers of America.

Mr. Jarrett is a member of several practice committees within the American Bar Association's Labor and Employment Section, and serves as a contributing editor to national treatises on the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Family and Medical Leave Act. Mr. Jarrett is an elected member of the Board of Bar Commissioners of the State Bar of New Mexico—the group of attorneys, elected by their peers from throughout the State, who govern the Bar. As a Bar Commissioner, Mr. Jarrett serves on the Personnel Committee, the Continuing Legal Education Advisory Committee, and as liaison to the Board of Bar Examiners. Mr. Jarrett also serves as Board Secretary for the Indian Law Section of the State Bar. Mr. Jarrett is serving his second term as an elected board member of the Bar's Employment and Labor Section and is currently Chair-elect. Mr. Jarrett also serves as liaison to the annual Tulane Multi-State Labor and Employment Seminar.

Mr. Jarrett currently serves as the Chair of the Workplace Issues Committee within the Association of Commerce and Industry. He is a Director of Junior Achievement of New Mexico, educating the community's youth about economics and free enterprise.