

NATIVE AMERICAN RESOURCES, LLC

Training and Technical Assistance to Tribal Organizations

TO: TRIBAL COUNCILS, BOARDS AND COMMITTEES
SOMETIMES TO ADVANCE, YOU MUST “RETREAT”

Quality Council and Board members’ training is not an expense, but an investment in good, progressive and ethical governance. Those who elected or appointed tribal Council and Board members have entrusted them with a serious responsibility: to LEAD and to PROTECT the welfare of the tribe.

Often, the best way to provide such intensive training is to identify a venue where participants can retreat without the inevitable interruptions, learn from trainers and one another, and develop the camaraderie that is so important to shared governance. As we like to say, sometimes the best way to Lead is to Retreat.

Native American Resources has devised a plan to facilitate the process by taking on the responsibility for all the needed arrangements. We will (under your direction) identify the location, make the necessary travel and lodging arrangements, provide the extensive materials and implement the kind of workshop that will leave participants energized, refreshed and ready to tackle the most troublesome of tasks. Our trainers are well experienced in tribal issues, the materials are pertinent, and the training employs interactive formats that are best for the adult learner.
